

Art students of West Catholic High School made over 100 cards for the residents of St. Anne's home. Student used silkscreen and linoleum block printing to create the hand made cards. They then address them with simple holiday greetings and well wishes for Christmas. "I have two of students, Andrea Powers and Meg Rogalski who work at St. Anne's Home. They are going to bring the cards in for us and they sure that the residents will really appreciate receiving our Christmas cards", said art teacher Mrs. Lisa Nawrocki.

Lauren Kelly and Jacqui Sochacki print cards

Megan Buczkowski prints cards for St. Ann's home

Lauren Kelly strives for a perfect print

Nick Fortier and Megan Buczkowski print their cards using linoleum blocks that they designed and carved.